Basic Electrics

The course begins with a basic introduction to electrical theory and practice, to cement the basis of your electrical understanding.

Part P

Week two will involve the learning of comprehensive theory and practical training assessments, where you will learn how to design, install, test, inspect, and certify your own work on domestic premises.

17th Edition

Next, you will become familiar with the wiring regulations which govern the majority of work that electricians will be required to carry out.

Portable Appliances Testing - PAT

This will give you the skills needed to carry out in-service inspection and testing of electrical equipment.

Fundamental Inspection and Testing

In this module, you will be carrying out tests, inspections and certifications on work done by yourself and your co-students on domestic premises, on a more advanced level.

Inspection and Testing

This final section of the course will also involve carrying out Periodic Inspections on existing work, for landlords, home sale, change of business use or for insurance purposes. This will be in addition to testing, inspecting, and certifying work in domestic, commercial, or industrial premises.

The 2 online exams and the practical assessment will need to be booked after the Inspection and Testing module has been completed.
