- 3 I will never take the piss out of anything or anybody.
- 4 I will be helpful and positively encouraging to all 5 week wonders. I will answer their questions politely and accurately no matter how obvious the answer may seem or how many times the question has been asked in the last few days.
- 5 I will never log on whilst under the influence of alcohol.
- 6 I will be helpful and positively encouraging to all DIYers. I will answer their questions politely and accurately no matter how obvious the answer may seem or how many times the question has been asked in the last few days.
- 7 I will check though dozens of mind-numbingly boring posts in the moderation queue at least twice a day and delete spam and approve legitimate posts.

I hereby agree to abide by these rules at all times. I also hereby agree that every time I fail to adhere to any one or multiple rules above I will purchase Marvo a piece of test equipment of his choice using my own hard earned funds and will also pay door-to-door package and postage to Cape Town.
